CURRICULUM (Breve reseña del CV):

Anne van Dijk is an experience expert in the field of transgressive behaviour in sport and eighteen years old. She was only thirteen years old when she experienced sexual harassment in sports. Now she contributes to the prevention of transgressive behaviour in sport at national and international level. Transgressive behaviour is a structural problem and it takes place almost everywhere. From her own experience Anne knows that the impact of transgressive behaviour is enormous and every case of transgressive behaviour is one too many. Now – almost five years later – she shares her story to inform, activate and educate others so that awareness is created about such cases. Anne has been working at De Stilte Verboden for more than two years as a 'listening ear' for fellow sufferers and she has also worked for Report App as projectlead for the sport section since a year. Now, she works as founder at ADris.es to offer courses as an experience expert.
